

PROPERTY PROTECTION IN CASE OF UNWARRANTED ARREST OR PROPERTY INVENTORY

You owned a real estate, funds, securities and other property, but... it was CONFISCATED for no good reason? Assert your rights and be aware that the proprietary right is an absolute right and is guarded by the LAW:

Article 53. of the Constitution of the Republic of Uzbekistan says:
“Private property is ...inviolable and is protected by the state”

Article 166. of the Civil Code of the Republic of Uzbekistan states:
“Ownership is inviolable and protected by the Law.

Inviolability of ownership includes nonadmission of violation of rights of ownership by all entities who confront an owner”

Article 35. of the Law “On Property in the Republic of Uzbekistan” determines:

If rights of the proprietor or other persons on ownership or use and administration of a property belonging to them are violated as a result of promulgation of an Act by the body of State administration or a local administration body which is not in conformity with the Law, such an Act shall be invalidated by the court’s decision instigated at the proprietor’s or another person’s suit whose rights are violated.”
